Philip Hemphill, Ph.D., LCSW

Chief Clinical Officer, Lakeview Health
Jacksonville, FL

The workshop will be held at
The Pavilion at Williamsburg Place
5483 Mooretown Road
Williamsburg, VA 23188

OVERVIEW

The impact of Integrative Health in addiction treatment requires the identification and treatment of both behavioral and medical conditions. This process involves screening, consultation, and intervention in a coordinated manner that promotes health and wellness. The importance of creating strategies for increasing both patient and staff literacy with a phased in activation will be presented with case examples. Data from this process of implementation will be provided for discussion as well as a model of care. Finally, an assessment of your organizations readiness with fidelity scales will be provided for enhanced commitment to patient care.

PRESENTATION OBJECTIVES

From this workshop, participants will be able to:

- Define ‘What is Integrative Care?’
- List methods available for clinically aligning Addiction Treatment, Behavioral Health, and Primary Care.
- Assess your organizations readiness for implementation.
- Generate fidelity scales to assess progress.

ABOUT THE SPEAKER

Dr. Hemphill is the Chief Clinical Officer of Lakeview Health, a premier addiction treatment facility where he is responsible for the planning, organizing, implementing and directing all of the company’s behavioral health and clinical services with cost effective methodologies while ensuring the clinical quality of those services. As a member of the Executive Leadership, he works collaboratively and manages the medical, clinical, and nursing staff leaders in decision making structures. He partners with Outreach, Business Development, and Marketing Departments to present at local, regional and national workshops/conferences on behalf of Lakeview Health.

He has assisted pioneering the assessment and treatment of professionals with ‘Disruptive’ behavior which includes validating a monitoring instrument (DBI) and co-authored a book entitled Taming Disruptive Behavior (2013) published by American College of Physician Executives (ACPE.)

He has presented papers and workshops at national conferences and published articles in the field of trauma, personality disorders, and addictions during the past 27 years.

Dr. Hemphill has been an adjunct professor at Tulane University School of Social Work for the past 20 years, Assistant Clinical Professor at LSU Health Sciences Center, Department of Psychiatry for the past 17 years, and recently joined the faculty at Jacksonville University. He received his master and doctoral degrees from Tulane University.
